

WORLD COUNCIL FOR HEALTH EXPERT PANEL FINDS CANCER PROMOTING DNA CONTAMINATION IN COVID-19 VACCINES

International expert panel concludes that Covid vaccines are contaminated with foreign DNA and that SV40, a cancer-promoting genetic sequence has been found in the vaccines

Bath, U.K. – The World Council for Health, in collaboration with expert advisers, is dedicated to providing the public with accurate and reliable information to promote health and well-being. In light of recent concerns regarding bacterial DNA and genetic sequences in mRNA vaccines, the World Council for Health organized an Urgent Expert Hearing on this critical topic on Monday 9th October.

The hearing took place virtually and addressed the implications of these findings for all people of the world. The following internationally renowned immunologists, geneticists, specialist physicians and research scientists shared their findings with the audience:

- Kevin McKernan (USA)
- Dr Janci Lindsay (USA)
- Prof Sucharit Bhakdi (Germany)
- Assoc Prof Byram Bridle (Canada)
- Dr Peter McCullough (USA)
- Prof Brigitte König (Germany)
- Dr Jessica Rose (Canada)
- Prof Alexandra Henrion-Caude (France)
- Attorney Katie Ashby-Koppens (Australia) shared the legal implications of the deployment of unregulated GMO products as vaccines

Summary of Findings:

1. Bacterial DNA (plasmids) has been found in mRNA vaccine vials.
2. A cancer-promoting genetic sequence—SV40—has been found in the Covid-19 vaccines. This was not present in the vials used for the approval studies but has been found in all vials of the BioNTech vials disseminated for public use.
3. These discoveries have been confirmed in several independent laboratories worldwide.
4. The discovery was originally made in April 2023 by Kevin McKernan at which point regulatory bodies were contacted. No official reply has been received.
5. Multiple mechanisms exist in which this genetic information might be integrated into the human genome.
6. This DNA could instruct our bodies to produce mRNA and foreign proteins for an unknown period with potential implications for subsequent generations.

7. There is no constructive purpose identified for the undeclared SV40 promotor sequence, which in addition to its cancer risk, enhances the capacity to incorporate the other foreign genetic material into the recipients' own chromosomes potentially rendering them (and possibly even their offspring) permanently genetically modified.
8. There are multiple completely undeclared genetic sequences in both Moderna and Pfizer vials with the SV40 sequence found only in the Pfizer vials. However, latent SV40 infections in a significant portion of the population could present the same SV40 risk to Moderna recipients.
9. Even in the absence of chromosomal integration, the DNA plasmids could generate mRNA for the spike protein toxin and other harmful proteins for prolonged and unpredictable periods of time.
10. Integration of foreign DNA into the human genome disrupts existing natural genetic sequences; this carries further risk of disease including cancer.
11. The Covid-19 vaccines qualify as GMO (genetically modified organism) products, which require approval in addition to that required for older, more traditional vaccines.
12. Informed consent for these products is impossible as the risks of the products have never been formally and transparently assessed by regulators and are not fully known. Independent assessment of the emerging and available evidence is that these products are extremely dangerous with implications for disease, death, transmission and inheritance.
13. An immediate moratorium on these novel genetic "vaccines" was demanded by the expert panelists.

Of the expert hearing, Dr Peter McCullough, Scientific Advisor to World Council for Health, said, "I believe today in 2023 after three years of the failed Covid 19 vaccine campaign which has been a biologic disaster for the world that the multi-hit hypothesis for oncogenesis has been fulfilled... the Covid 19 vaccines work to impair tumor suppressor systems P53 and BRCA 1 and 2. Additionally, the genetic vaccines also impair DNA repair ... they impair the bodies' ability to repair itself."

Following the hearing, Dr Tess Lawrie, co-founder of the World Council for Health, said, "World Council for Health has brought the experts and the evidence together. Now individuals have what they need to pursue legal action against vaccinating practitioners should they wish to do so. Such individual actions may be what finally puts an end to the ongoing international violation of human rights."

To watch the event, please visit worldcouncilforhealth.org/dna

Full previous press release: <https://worldcouncilforhealth.org/news/news-releases/expert-hearing-dna-contamination-mrna-vaccines/>

About the World Council for Health:

The World Council for Health is an international organization dedicated to a better way for health and wellbeing based on reliable health information and personal choice. We foster solutions-focused collaboration among experts, policymakers, health practitioners and the public and promote a better way for humanity.